1. Place a sheet of Fujifilm Prescale® pressure indicating film directly on the compression elements of your polishing head and wafer component.

2. Instantaneously and permanently, the film captures both the pressure distribution and magnitude that occurs between the contacting surfaces.

3. Final analysis: a “pressure map”

Place Fujifilm Prescale® tactile surface sensor here